DETAILED ACTION

Continued Examination Under 37 CFR 1.114

1. A request for continued examination under 37 CFR 1.114, including the fee set forth in 37 CFR 1.17(e), was filed in this application after final rejection. Since this application is eligible for continued examination under 37 CFR 1.114, and the fee set forth in 37 CFR 1.17(e) has been timely paid, the finality of the previous Office action has been withdrawn pursuant to 37 CFR 1.114. Applicant's submission filed on 3/30/2009 has been entered.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

2. The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

3. Claim 20 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention. "the tracks," "the carriage" and "the control tracks" lacks proper antecedent basis. It is noted that the Remarks filed 3/30/2009 states that the dependency of claim 20 has been changed to depend on claim 13; however, claim 20 still depends on claim 11 based on the listing of the claims filed on 3/30/2009.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

4. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

5. Claims 1, 2, 11 & 12 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Amberg et al. (US 4,215,460) in view of Vandevoorde (US 5,060,367).

- With respect to claims 1 & 11, Amberg discloses a installation comprising: a conveyor (15) conveying a plurality of spaced apart products (12) in upright orientation, a supply of sleeves (11), at least two pairs of transfer elements, each pair comprising a pair of transfer element (25 & 31), each transfer element (25/31) is carried on a carriage (26/30) to effect a straight active path to pick up a sleeve (11) and to fit the sleeve on a product (12) and the other of the transfer element is carried on a return path different from the active path, and a worm feed device (14) for synchronizing the products (12) and the carriage (26 or 30). The installation of Amberg meets all of applicant's claimed subject matter but lacks the specific teaching of the sleeves being drawn from a sheath. However, supplying sleeves is not the invention of the present application, and it is well known in the art of applying label that sleeves can be pre-made as taught by Amberg (US 4,215,460) or drawn from a sheath as taught by Vandevoorde (US 5,060,367); therefore, it would have been obvious to a skilled person in the art, at the time of the invention was made, to have modified the installation of Amberg by having provided the sleeves drawn from a sheath, as taught by Vandevoorde, since supplying sleeves from a sheath is old and well known and is not the invention.

- With respect to claims 2 & 12, the modified installation of Amberg meets all of applicant's claimed subject matter but lacks the specific teaching of the synchronizer being an inlet star. Amberg uses a worm feed device (14) for synchronizing the products (12) with the carriage (26/30) carrying the transfer elements (25/31) which serves the same function as the claimed inlet star. It is known in the art that star wheel and worm feed device are both used for the purpose of regulating inlet spacing of articles into packaging machine; therefore, it would have been obvious to a skilled person in the art, at the time of the invention, to have either uses a screw or an inlet star, as a matter of engineering designed choice, for synchronizing the products (12) with the carriage (26/30).

Allowable Subject Matter

6. Claims 3-10 & 13-19 are objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.

7. Claim 20, presumably depending on claim 13, would be allowable if rewritten to overcome the rejection(s) under 35 U.S.C. 112, 2nd paragraph, set forth in this Office action and to include all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.

Response to Arguments

8. Applicant's arguments with respect to claims 1 & 11 have been considered but are moot in view of the new ground(s) of rejection.
